

Dear EBPS members,

The Biennial Meeting in Tuebingen was a great success, and we have a workshop coming up in Cork, Ireland next year that promises to be excellent too.

We are also looking beyond. There will be an EBPS Biennial Meeting in Rome, Italy in 2009, and to make this meeting as successful as the previous ones, the input from you, members of the society, is essential. Therefore, we encourage you to submit proposals for symposia that can be held during the meeting in 2009.

Proposals for symposia should be submitted preferably by e-mail to Bart Ellenbroek, President of EBPS (president@ebps.org), no later than January 31st, 2008, on the form linked. Proposers should follow the enclosed guidelines although suggestions for sessions involving innovative topics or formats are encouraged. Suggestions for plenary speakers or Workshops are also encouraged.

Please do not invite potential speakers at this point.

Looking forward to seeing your proposals.

Kind regards,

Louk Vanderschuren
